REBOOKING POLICY INFORMATION

We want all groups who visit Reynoldswood to have the opportunity to rebook their retreat for the following year. We can offer this up to one full year in advance to allow optimum booking capability for your group. The best way to insure you have both the date and the space you desire is to rebook upon check-out with the site manager or call the office immediately following your retreat and rebook with the office contract administrator.

We have been blessed with many return groups who are looking to visit us again, as well as many new groups who are looking to visit us for the first time. Our advice to you is to rebook as soon as possible to secure your future stay here at Reynoldswood.

If you do not have a contract or deposit with us, this means that you have not officially rebooked with our office, and your space is not guaranteed. Please do not assume that this will be done as this can cause a huge problem for both us and you.

We look forward to serving your group in the future.

Sincerely,

Reynoldswood Christian Camp and Retreat Center
